STREAMING SCHEDULE AND BROADCAST TEAM ANNOUNCED FOR 2025 INAUGURAL SEASON

Great Falls, VA—The Champions League of American Wrestling, LLC (CLAW) released its streaming schedule and broadcast team for the 2025 inaugural season.

The 2025 broadcast team is led by Shane Sparks, the most recognizable announcer in the sport of wrestling, regularly announcing on the BIG10 Network, FloWrestling, and ESPN. He is partnered with 4x NCAA All-American Mike McMullan as the color commentator. Veteran analyst and commentator Mike Malinconico will be matside, providing additional analysis and interviews.

The season begins on October 28 with a battle of division rivals: Mat Kings vs. Cicadas. “Opening Night” marks the return of World Champion and Hodge Trophy winner Zain Retherford to the mat. On four consecutive Tuesdays, CLAW will freestream meets on CLAW Total Access, FloWrestling, LightsOutTV, and other platforms. On Wednesdays, CLAW will stream duals on CLAW Total Access for only $6.99 (PPV). Alternatively, fans can purchase an annual subscription and obtain all premium content for only $24. The 2025 season concludes with Super Dual One on November 29 in Pittsburgh, PA.

Commissioner Tom Houck stated, “We are thrilled to announce our all-star broadcasting team. Their depth of wrestling knowledge and passion for the sport is unmatched. We’re also excited to stream duals at no charge throughout the season. For fans who want every dual and a treasure trove of premium content, we made CLAW Total Access extremely affordable so people can enjoy everything about our historic first season.”

CLAW is a professional wrestling league debuting in 2025. Modified rules increase action, scoring, strategy and fan engagement. Follow CLAW on Instagram, X, Facebook, Tik Tok and YouTube at @CLAW_Wrestling.
